

PEACE

Proving you care more about each other than winning an argument

MEMORY VERSE | Romans 14:19

PEACE GAME:

Before you start today's game, share some things your family struggles with... maybe fairness or saying mean things. Once you have come up with a few things, play a game of Spin the Spoon (or fork or whatever else you've got) around the table as you eat. The person who spins the utensil must say something kind about the person the utensil points to. After everyone has heard at least one nice thing about themselves, talk about how you can each use your strengths to create peace this week. If you get stuck, play another round of Spin the Spoon to remind you of the great things each person in your family brings to the table!

Just for FUN!

Sometimes making the peace looks a little like a pomegranate:
