

PEACE

Proving you care more about each other than winning an argument

MEMORY VERSE | Romans 14:19

PEACE CHALLENGE:

This week, you're going to make several simple friendship bracelets, or peace bands, to help your family figure out how to respond with peace. Cut a piece of construction paper into strips, and on each one write a good solution for making peace instead of fighting. Come up with as many as you can as a family. (E.g., walk away from the other person; decide on a time limit for each person to play with a toy, etc.) Then tape or glue the ends of each strip, one by one, to make bracelets, or peace bands. Place the bands in a bowl or somewhere else accessible, and each time a situation arises this week where a fight or argument could result, head to the bowl and choose a peace band to wear. Then put the peace plan into action! Return the bracelet after you've made peace with your family member or friend.

Just for FUN!

Sometimes even unlikely animals can make peace with each other:
<http://bit.ly/2vmb03u>

